Re: Feature Article

Dear Ms. Almendarez,

Enclosed is my final draft of the article you requested I write along with a CD of the article, bio and pictures. Thank you for choosing me as the feature article in the upcoming edition of Prison Living Magazine. Per our discussion Thursday, January 25, 2007, I hope we are able to complete the edits in time to make the April 2007 publication.

Upon publication, I would like to purchase between 100-300 copies of the magazine. When we talked Thursday, you relayed to me your current cost is $4.00 per magazine, I am hopeful that the extra publications of the magazine I wish to purchase will reduce this per copy price in order to help the magazine and also allow me to purchase more copies. Upon receiving the copies of the magazine in which I am featured, I will mail copies to various state, criminal defense bars and associations, universities, certified public accountant associations, ethics schools and associations, various government bodies, banking associations, news medias and selected corporate and industry groups along with a cover letter to each and a copy of my consultant brochure pointing each to the company website and blog.

Again, thank you for choosing me to be in your magazine, it is truly an honor.

Sincerely,

Robert L. McDorman
